More reflections on the RRPC music program

When I was getting ready to retire to Rio Rancho I checked websites for several Presbyterian churches. When I saw that RRPC had the "Old Time Religion String Band" I said...That's the church for me!

Singing has always been my way of "Making a joyful noise to our Lord". I have sung in church ever since elementary school. No better way to praise the Lord.

Choir has provided a sense of worship, joy, and camaraderie. Nancy and I were delighted to join such a big singing choir-- our church back East saw its numbers dwindling--and a talented and friendly one, both chancel and OTR. We were thrilled to also learn that there was an active handbell choir here and have enjoyed playing with it. We have very much enjoyed the tireless, positive leadership and talents of Nancy and have appreciated Nathan's accompanying for large and small groups. The congregation joins right in in the appreciation of music as part of worship-- and in singing well, themselves!
